

FRICK IS A DEMOCRAT.

HE CONTRIBUTES TO THE FUNDS OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

Statement That He Gave Financial Aid to the Republicans Prove Untrue—But He Did Give $10,000 to the Democrats.

A speech from Pittsburgh says that Henry C. Frick, President of the Carnegie Iron and Steel Company, has swelled the election fund of the Democratic party by a contribution of $10,000.

This gives the lie to the statement telegraphed last week from New York that Mr. Frick had given a check for a large amount to the managers of the Republican National campaign.

It is not regarded as strange that Mr. Frick should have given money to the Democracy.

In the late Homestead trouble it was a Democratic Governor who ordered out the troops.

It was also a Democratic officer who was in command of the military.

The contest of the Carnegie Company with its locked out Union workmen certainly would have been prolonged and might have had a different outcome but for the presence at Homestead of the military.

Mr. Frick's contribution to the Democratic campaign fund is regarded as an act of gratitude for services rendered by representatives of that party.

The desperate Tammany bosses are threatening armed resistance to United States Marshals and Supervisors who attempt to keep Tammany repeaters and colonists from illegal voting in New York city.

The ugly and inflammatory circular issued by Sheehan has been followed up by systematic appeals to the passion and prejudices of the most ignorant Tammany followers.

Appearances indicate that it is the fixed purpose of the Democratic leaders in New York to provoke violence and rioting around the polls to-morrow.

If advantage is taken of the confusion and tumult to stuff ballot boxes with Democratic votes, or to destroy Republican ballots which have been cast, it will be in accord with approved Democratic tactics.

The conspirators may as well understand that their plot will not work.

The Republican voters of New York can neither be bought nor bullied.

The Federal officials, charged under the laws of the United States with securing a fair election, will do their duty without fear or flinching.

The arrests of colonizers and repeaters already made, while have excited the Democratic bosses to such frantic rage, will be followed up by the apprehension of every offender against the suffrage against whom the Republicans have secured evidence.

The Federal officers do not propose to do injustice to any man.

They do propose, acting within strictly constitutional limits, to block the Tammany schemes for rolling up a vast fraudulent majority in New York city.

It will be well for Tweed's successors to remember that behind the United States officials is the United States Government, and that behind the Government is the Nation.

The mandates of the Constitution will be enforced.

The criminals who stole New York state last December will not be permitted to steal it again.

The Irish World is frank and strong and clear. You always know where it stands on all questions. The editor could not be a Mingwump, for chilly-shaly work is not in his line. He cannot be a democrat, for he knows how British Free-trade has crushed Irish industry. His Republicans and his Protection views are stalwart—the of the heart as well as of the head. His words go far and reach deep into the hearts of our Irish-American citizens.

For the first time in the history of Mason county politics, an Irish-American is a candidate for a high office.

It is an opportunity which Irishmen should embrace to vote for one of their own race and blood.

A vote east for William A. Byron for Commonwealth's Attorney is a vote for a man who will grapple the office and who will add additional luster to the Irish name.

Be sure and hear him at Neptune Hall to-night, and be sure to vote for him at the polls to-morrow.

Maxwellton's brass are bonny. There early falls the dew. And 'twas there that Annie Lawrie and I were born in the same form. Her wisdom is in meekness. Of her stomach got inside. And that same bonnie Annie Lawrie Gladly laid her down and died. Her brow was like a snow-drift. Her face was like a swan. That's e'er the case about me. It made no difference to the microbe. His conscience never awoke. Annie Lawrie ate the ice cream, and she simply had to croak.

The bullheaded Democratic Auditor at Frankfort, who has arrayed himself against the Legislature, the Governor, the Attorney General and the Courts, has finally refused to pay over the World's Fair Appropriations when ordered to do so by the Court of Appeals. Some persons would have inferred from their representations that Judge Harbinson was a fool. If he could not be a railroad attorney, he was a swindler.

Mr. Harbinson has never won great reputation as a lawyer and that is probably the reason why he has never been retained by large property holders.

HARRISON can be elected without the vote of New York, but he won't be. The Empire State insists upon sharing the honor.

You will have a chance to-morrow to vote against the party that pretends to believe that a country can enrich itself by closing its factories and hiring its manufacturing done in foreign lands.

PROFESSOR who admired CLEVELAND for his courage in writing the Tariff message of 1867 must have an interesting opinion of the quality of his dodging letter of acceptance in 1868.

ROBERT T. LINCOLN, our Minister to England, has had some opportunities to observe conditions there. "They say coal costs more in England than in America. The difference is, my friends, that the American laborer can buy the coal. Across the water there are crowds to be seen who could not buy a coal if they were willing to pay a cent."

THIS will be an "off year" for GROVER and for HAZELHORN, HARBISON & Co.

AFTER to-night the Democratic Single X Club will have other business than howling for English Free-trade.

HOLT, McCARTNEY, COCHRAN and BASKIN are gentlemen of whom any party might feel proud; and the Democrat who votes for either of them will honor himself.

THE campaign, National and local, will end to-night. To-morrow the voting will be done, and beginning at 10 o'clock to-morrow night the Republicans will do the shouting.

NEXT Wednesday morning a large number of Mason County Democrats—those who have turned their faith to the assertion of The Bulletin—will wake up to a full realization of that paper's capacity for downright lying.

THE party which two years ago misrepresented the McKinley law to the country and won a victory by deceit and falsehood is nearing its day of reckoning. Judgment has been entered against it, and the hour of its execution is approaching.

HERE never was a note issued by a National Bank under Republican rule that was not, finally redeemed at 100 cents on a dollar. The holders of the notes of state banks under Democratic administration lost more than $165,000,000 in twenty years.

THE Democratic party is the party of destruction. It touches systems only to destroy them. It proposes to grapple with the Tariff, not to reform it, but to annihilate it. It seeks to attack the banking system not to strengthen or amend it, but to overthrow it.

CLEVELAND will be beaten in New York. Tammany's solid and enthusiastic support proclaims a corrupt bargain which is offensive to the people's nostrils. It will increase HARRISON's plurality above Harlem Bridge by thousands.

THE Democratic party in numerous Northern and Northwestern states has given up the ghost. It has proclaimed the hopelessness of its existence in Nebraska, Kansas, Minnesota, Nevada, Colorado, South Dakota and other states, and has gone into the People's Party. Thousands of Republicans who have gone astray leave the People's Party in the hopes of finding a free party from old influences will thus be driven back into the Republican party, where their principles and convictions make them belong.

AMONG THE RAILROADS

AT Russellville a window full of fire-works exploded and a large crowd rushed to the scene. In a few minutes the gasoline lamps in the window also exploded, injuring twenty-five people. Some of the wounds are serious but not fatal.

THE WAY TO VOTE.

READ OVER THESE DIRECTIONS CAREFULLY AND FOLLOW THEM.

It is an Easy Matter to Vote Under the New Law if You Will Study It—Ballots Not Marked Intelligibly Will Not Be Counted.

So much has been said and written about the intricacies of the new election law that people who have not read it really think it will be very troublesome to master to them the new system.

It is in fact a simple matter to mark for those persons who wish to vote a straight ticket. The names of each party and the names of every candidate printed on one ballot, the candidates of each party by reason of inability to read the English language, he is unable to mark his ballot, may declare his choice of candidates or party ticket to the Clerk, who, in the presence of the Judges and the electors, and the elector, shall, with his pencil, mark a dot in the appropriate place for the cross mark to indicate the name of the elector. The Clerk shall then fold and deliver the ballot to the elector, and instruct him to retire to the room and there mark his ballot by making a cross mark in the squares showing the date of birth.

If a voter does not wish to vote for any candidate for a particular office or wishes to vote for more than one, or for less than one, or for more than one, or for less than one, he may place his X mark in the square opposite the names of each and every candidate for whom he wishes to vote and to whom he wishes to give his vote, in the square containing the device of any party.

SAILORS' PERIL.

The Whaler Helen Mac Caught In a Mass of Ice
In the Arctic Regions and Crushed Into Kindling Wood.

Thirty-Five Seamen Lost Their Lives—Only Five of the Vessel Men Escape Death—The Survivors Cling to the Mac for Many Hours.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—The steamer whaler Beluga, which arrived from the Arctic Sunday, brings the news of the destruction of the whaling bark Helen Mac, Capt. Thaxter, and the loss of thirty-five of her crew. Only five of the vessel men escaped death. On October 21, while the Helen Mac was engaged in hunting in whale, in latitude 71 degrees 30 minutes north, longitude 160 degrees 30 minutes west, she was crushed in the ice. The ice came in a rush and without warning. The vessel and the boats were crushed to splinters. The men were unable to get ashore because the ice was so thick. The men had no time to lower the boat and got away. The fifth mate, Ward, a boat steersman, Cook Eook Kershaw and two sailors were the only ones saved.

They clung to the main mast as it went down with the ice. The rest of the crew, including Capt. Thaxter, were either crushed to death or drowned. For forty-eight hours the five men clung to the mast, and were finally taken off by the steamer Beluga. The Beluga brought down with the crew the Helen Mac and a Japanese sailor of the Mac. The two others remained on the ice, and went on the whaler's reinforced. The Beluga had taken five whales before her destruction, and was owned by W. H. Brown & Co., New York. Wm. Bullock, the skipper of the whaler F. A. Bartow, and John Gallagher, of the Thrasher, died in Arctic. The Beluga brings the following report of the whaling fleets up to October 17:

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—The monument erected in memory of the anarchists executed five years ago in Chicago was dedicated at the intersection of State and Madison Saturday. There was a street parade, which many women and children participated, despite the fact that a cold, drizzling rain was falling. The graves of Spies, Parsons, Fischer, and Engel, who were condemned and who committed suicide, were covered over with flowers and wreaths, and on top of the monument was placed a boral gallows. The services consisted of songs and speeches, none of the latter being inflammatory, and no red flags were displayed.

TO THE COURTS

Once the War Between the Governor and the Kentucky Legislature.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 7.—After some of the most bitter fighting in the history of this state, the issue of the World's fair appropriation was submitted to Judge Moffitt in the circuit court Saturday morning. Col. Davis, of Louisville, presented the petition of the commissioners, and Senator Gobell presented that of the auditor.

Col. Davis entered a general demurrer to the answer. Judge Montfort sustained the demurrer, and issued a mandamus directing the auditor to pay the money in the amount of $100,000 to the appropriate court, commissioners and advanced. The court of appeals adjourned Saturday November 15, but their final decision immediately upon their return.

Judge Montfort says: "There was nothing upon the face of the act disconnecting it, was passed in an unconstitutional manner, the requisition of governor upon the auditor for the payment of any money, and upon the issue made." Since the auditor does not act under these circumstances his bond would not be liable, and the state would forever be estopped from suit upon the bond.

The cause has so deeply drawn the attention of the court of appeals that it will go into the constitutional character of the act, and what constitutes the famous "final passage of the bill," which enters into the great turmoil in which the legislature, or more particularly the legislature, and the governor are involved.

The outcome will be watched with intense interest throughout the state. Pitted in this case are two of the most brilliant young lawyers in Kentucky.

ROCKFORD, Ill., Nov. 7.—A bill adopted by the leaders of the movement and the forbearance shown by the majority of workers, the employers were not put to much trouble in securing nonunion help. All commercial firms were operated on reduced forces, however, in such instances the employers themselves took the places made vacant by the strikers.

The cause of labor suffered something of a set back owing to the detection of a plot in the general strike to file a libel action by the Clothing Clerks union and retail Dry Goods Clerks union. The organizations resolved not to participate in the strike. This determinedly thwarted the plot, but consider, but the situation is more difficult, these unions will join the movement should the merchants remain firm. The Gas Co., foreseeing trouble, wisely made preparations to guard against invasion before the strike began. The Gas Co. will last at least five days if it is reported, however, that the main of the company and the electric wire will be cut.

The Gas Division went out at 6 o'clock Saturday, cutting the contact with the railroad companies not to participate in any labor movement for one year. Consequently the people are walking. The musicians of the day have joined in the movement, and it is impossible to secure a band. There was no music at the matinee, and the performances at night was conducted with the aid of piano accompaniment.

Fearing serious trouble, the merchants are massing arms at Washington Avenue, and are prepared to meet an emergency. Since the beginning of the strike nearly two score men have been arrested for interference with nonunion workmen. The cases are of an aggravated nature, and several of them are scalps were knocked senseless, and one or two were crippled. Robert Perkins, a Negro driver, was knocked senseless by a strike named Evans, who was arrested. An attempt to interfere with a Negro who had stopped to draw water at a pump, who hurried away at the drivers, but upon his drawing a revolver they fled. Mr. D. Duffy, of the firm of E. Duffy & Sons, while on his way from a funeral Sunday morning, was surrounded by a mob, who efforts were made to drag him from his carriage. He drew his revolver and scared the crowd off.

There were signs Sunday night of a number of difficulties of different kinds, and the general alarm of laborers in this city grew. Should the efforts made to harmonize the trouble between the merchants and the laborers avail nothing, the probability is very strong that trouble of a very serious nature will come. Monday morning, the men ordered to hold itself in readiness to preserve the peace. Details of men have been placed at each of the armories in the city to guard the state property. Gov. Foster and Lieut.-Gov. Parfage, aware of the seriousness of the situation, have issued a circular to ascertain the exact state of affairs, and it is hoped by the more conservative element on both sides that their interference will bring about a reconciliation.

Over 1,000 men, mostly adopted by the leaders of the movement, and the forbearance shown by the majority of workers, the employers were not put to much trouble in securing nonunion help. All commercial firms were operated on reduced forces, however, in such instances the employers themselves took the places made vacant by the strikers.

W.H. Powers in His Hand the Stationery of the Railroad Train and Aviation.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 7.—A woman was killed Sunday morning in a collision with a train on the Atlantic and Tennessee Railroad and the Louisville and Nashville Railroad under circumstances which seem to indicate a most dreadful form of suicide. As the train came in at a third rail, an hour late, the woman ran across the tracks in front of the train, and was struck by the pilot. The blow was a dreadful one, and she was thrown over a mile past a distance of thirty-five feet, and was killed on impact.

Seven men were injured in the accident.

MURKINVILLE.

Saturday night Murkyville was literally a scene of desolation. The fire which had appeared at 7 o'clock amid the wildest enthusiasm. He spoke for an hour and a half, effusively in a happy and forcible manner the dangers attending the election of an incompetent—this is his language—than he could and his property of 30,000 men, women and children were in his hands, and of the lasting seriousness of a Judge being unable to decide the law. He demonstrated conclusively that Justice and Truth were on his side, having never had a case in court in his life. It was throughout the grandest speech of the campaign.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.

To whom & May Concern: The position of Vice-President of the Commercial Club at Helena has been offered to me, and will not affect my vote. I shall cast my ballot for Cochran and Bryon, the Single X Democratic Club of Helena to the contrary notwithstanding.

In Carter county James Hunt, a veteran of the War of 1812, committed suicide by blowing out his brains.

TWO KENTUCKY FABLES

Falling Out of a Cornfield and Finding Indian Table Silver.

"I never knew," said Governor John Young Brown of Kentucky, "what Dudley Warmer meant when he wrote about a Kentuckian 'falling out of his own cornfield,' until I visited the mountains of my native state last year. At the time I was making a political canvas of the Eastern part of Kentucky, and one day in the mountains I overheard a mountaineer sympathizing with a neighbor that had lost a dear relative who had come to his death by falling out of his own cornfield. This interested me, and I visited the spot where this supposed misfortune had occurred. It lay upon the brow of a cliff, and the farmer had fallen two hundred feet. In those mountains there are dozens of such places."

The Governor was asked to relate another experience. He was surrounded by his friends at the Palmer House and was modestly reticent, but the Kentuckians added their persuasive powers to that of the newspaper man, and the Governor said: "Well, I hardly know what to tell you. Kentucky is a wonderful state, sir. Did you know there was silver there?" Answered in the negative, he continued: "I met an old State Senator at Grayson, Carter county, 75 years ago, sir, who collected the silver from the ground in a casket a century ago. The first furrow he ploughed he unearthed a piece of solid silver as large as a wedge they use in that country for splitting logs. He took the silver to Louisville, and a jeweler made him a dozen teaspoons, one dozen tablespoons, and then accepted the silver left over as ample payment for his work. That was forty-seven years ago, and the spoons are as good as new. Now, where did that silver come from?"

Prove It Before Leaving Home.

Three years ago, while I was visiting relatives at Higginsville, Mo., I was suddenly taken with colic and severe pains in the stomach. My relatives sent to the doctor for medicine, and he sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Oolie, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, telling me that if that medicine did not ease me he could not prescribe anything else. I used it and was immediately relieved.—Henry A. Thoren. For me by Power & Reynolds.
